Non-Final Office Action

Claims 1 and 3-14 are pending. No claim is allowed at this time. The amendments are entered. Acknowledgment is made of the amendments and remarks filed on April 20, 2005.

Response to Remarks

The Applicants argue that, because cited reference BESSETTE¹ is owned by the same assignee and inventor, it cannot be used in the rejection.

The Examiner respectfully disagrees. The instant application is not a continuation, continuation-in-part, or divisional of BESSETTE; this application does not claim priority from BESSETTE. Therefore, BESSETTE is considered prior art for this application.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

¹ WO 00/51436, which has been issued as US 6,506,707

Art Unit: 1616

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 8, 9, 10, and 14 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-9 of BESSETTE (US Patent No. 6,506,707) since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: The claims are drawn to a method for controlling/killing weeds and grasses by applying a composition comprising thymol and eugenol (clove oil). Instant claims differ from the claims of the reference in not claiming synergistic compositions used in the methods.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1 and 3-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over BESSETTE (WO 00/51436) and TWORKOSKI (Journal reference: "Herbicide Effects of Essential Oils," Weed Science, 50(4): 425-431, 2002).

Art Unit: 1616

BESSETTE teaches herbicidal compositions containing plant essential oils (including eugenol, which is clove oil) and mixtures or blends thereof. See the entire document; especially the abstract, examples, and claims.

TWORKOSKI teaches that clove oil, when applied to a plant, causes severe electrolyte damage and cell death. See the entire document, especially the first paragraph of page 1.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of invention to prepare an herbicidal composition comprising an herbicidally acceptable carrier and clove oil because BESSETTE teaches herbicidal compositions containing plant oils and TWORKOSKI teaches the use of clove oil as an herbicide. This embraces the presently claimed invention; therefore, the instant invention is considered prima facie obvious.

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). For applications filed on or after November 29, 1999, this rejection might also be overcome by showing that the subject matter of the reference and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person. See MPEP § 706.02(l)(1) and § 706.02(l)(2).

In the light of the forgoing discussion, the Examiner's ultimate legal conclusion is that the subject matter defined by the instant claims would have been obvious within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
